Art et al. Projects

easy
read

This is an Easy Read resource about Art et al.'s six projects.

Art et al. has six different projects that form part of the website.

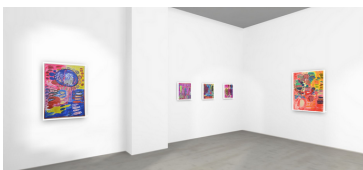

This is an easy read resource to tell you about the six projects.

Each involves working with or writing about an artist from a supported studio.

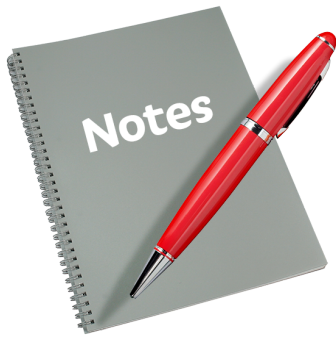

1.The first explores collections of art.

Artists from supported studios will be commissioned and supported to curate an exhibition or online project.

They will use artworks from an established art collection in Australia or the UK.

2. The second is to publish new art writing.

Respected writers will be commissioned to look at and write about the work and ideas of artists from supported studios.

3. The third is about viewing new artwork.

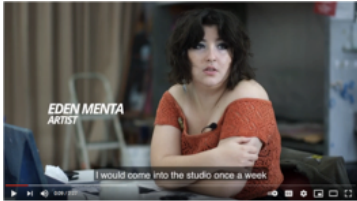

Art et al. will commission new artwork to be created by two artists internationally.

One of the artists will be from a supported studio. They will be working together over several weeks.

4. The fourth is about videos, interviews and other multimedia content.

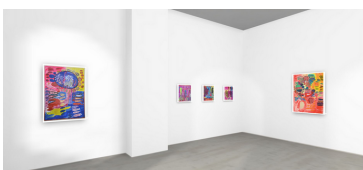

This will allow you to learn more about international artists, their artwork and their lives.

5. The fifth is about discovering stories, including the journeys of artists from supported studios.

It will include artists from supported studios who have collaborated on large-scale projects with museums and galleries.

6. The sixth is about visiting exhibitions, events and activities, both online and through in-person events.
